

MOTIVATION LETTER

Dear

I am Lieselot, a student web development from Belgium and I am looking for an internship from February until June 2019. I found your company via your website and my attention was immediately drawn to your combination of technique and creativity. The perfect mix between development and design is something I value a lot and where I want to gain more expertise in. So I think DTT could be a great match for my skillset.

Last summer I gained a lot of work experience during my participation at Open Summer of Code as a developer. Open Summer of Code is a 4-week summer programme where students transform open innovation projects into powerful real-world services. Together with three other students and a coach, I worked on a project about Linked Open Data for the Flemish government. In the beginning I worked on the serverside part but soon I realised I had more interest in the frontend, as well as the visual aspect and the designing so I switched to the clientside part.

I also gained some development experience by being responsible for the websites of my local youth group and gymnastics club. I had the ability to put my knowledge into practice by doing everything myself, from setting up the database and making the layout, to hosting the websites.

As an intern at DTT, I'd like to broaden my skillset, learn as much as possible about development and use my interest in design as well. Also the professional experience with interns from all over the world at DTT and your way of working with them would be a great addition to my professional future. With all this said, I look forward to hearing from you.

Sincerely
Lieselot Geirnaert
